SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese made more heavy attacks in South Vietnam's northern provinces before dawn today, and U.S. officials said another phase in the enemy's winter-spring campaign has started.

First reports said 16 American troops were killed and 68 wounded in the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, while 17 South Vietnamese were killed and 15 wounded, most of them civilians. At least 26 of the enemy were reported dead.

It was the second night of heavy enemy attacks in the region in three days. In more than a score of rocket, mortar and ground attacks Saturday night and Sunday, seven U.S. troops and 18 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 25 American troops and 78 Vietnamese civilians were wounded. Forty-four enemy were known dead.

Official sources said today the assaults were "the second phase of the Communist command's winter-spring campaign."

The heaviest attacks early today were a suicide commando assault on a U.S. Marine base camp 26 miles south of Da Nang and the shelling of a hamlet five miles northeast of My Lai, site of the alleged massacre of Vietnamese civilians by U.S. troops nearly two years ago.

Less than 50 commandos charged through a 200-round covering mortar barrage and blasted their way into the Marine camp from three sides. U.S. officers said they were sure some of the 26 enemy who died during the two-hour attack

Skyjack Try Foiled By Pilot

Reverses Engines Man Overpowered

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A man attempting to hijack a Delta Air Lines DC9 to Switzerland was thrown off balance by an intentional bumpy landing at Jacksonville International Airport today and overpowered by three passengers.

Authorities said the man, identified by the Duval County Sheriff's Office as Anton Funjek, 41, of Evansville, Ind., was held on an assault to murder charge.

Another passenger, Willard Bost, 19, of Circleville, Ohio, an Ohio University student who had been visiting a brother in Florida, said he heard people in the back of the plane where the stewardess was being held say "don't hurt the girl ... Do what you want, but don't hurt the girl."

He added that "I think the hijacker was as scared as anyone on the plane."

Bost is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Bost, 464 N. Court St.

Robert Starratt, chief of investigations for the sheriff's department, said the would-be hijacker attempted to seize control of the plane as it approached Jacksonville by pushing his knife to the throat of stewardess Sharon Beresford. The flight originated in Orlando.

Pilot Maurice Kuenze slammed on his brakes unnecessarily hard when the aircraft touched down, throwing the knife-wielding man off balance, Starratt said.

Three passengers immediately jumped on him, Starratt said, and overpowered him. The officer identified the passengers as Charles D. Strimple, an off-duty policeman from Willard, Ohio; Franklin Dale Hall of Orlando, a salesman; and W. J. Hillard of Green Bay, Wis.

Hall's shirt was slashed by the knife during the struggle. Starratt said he had an unconfirmed report Miss Beresford was cut slightly.

Hall, 5-foot-8 and 140 pounds, is an inactive member of the Orlando Police Department's reserve force.

Snow, Cold To Continue In Roundtown

The additional one-half inch of snow that fell overnight in the Roundtown area was the sample of more to come, according to the local weather observer.

Temperatures will drop today and Wednesday as snow flurries continue. A possible clearing tonight could result in the thermometer dropping to the zero mark.

Winter precipitation first hit the Roundtown area on Dec. 3, 1969 in the form of snow flurries. The first measurable snowfall was recorded on Dec. 21 when one inch of snow covered the ground. The area has not been without snow since that date. Currently, there is a two-inch snow cover recorded.

Thermometers rose to a high 41 degrees Monday and dropped overnight to 20 degrees where they will remain locally for the high readings during the day Tuesday.

Thus far, January, the severest of winter months, weather-wise, has proved just that as it eases itself into even more extreme conditions according to present predictions.

Air Hostess Is Heroine In Crash

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A young Spanish air hostess, thrown clear and knocked out when her airliner crashed in a woods near Stockholm Monday night, regained consciousness and dragged herself back into the wreckage to help her injured companions.

Working in 18 below zero cold, Ervana Cacanava, 25, radioed for help on portable transmitter and gave first aid to the plane's pilot and three other crewmen trapped in the tangled mass of metal.

Five other members of the crew were killed. There were no passengers aboard.

Suffering acutely from the cold, Miss Cacanava had to abandon attempts to light a fire and rescuers found her huddled in the smashed cockpit.

The pilot was trapped for nearly nine hours before he was cut free. He was seriously injured, but attending physicians said they believed he would survive.

The plane, a four-engine Conqair Coronado operated by a Spanish charter company, took off Monday for the Canary Islands with a load of Swedish tourists. When an engine failed, it returned, unloaded its passengers, and took off for Switzerland for repairs. It crashed just afterward.

In addition to his many movie roles, Ritter, 64, had such hit records as "High Noon," "Bill Weevil" and "Hillbilly Heaven."

The Republican primary is Aug. 6.

U.S. Gives Grant For Watersheds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A $225,000 grant by the state to the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service to help double the number of small watershed work plans in Ohio was announced by Ohio Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr today.

The money was appropriated by the 108th General Assembly. Morr said the agreement with the service will help expedite development in soil and water conservation planning and will help formulate an action plan to meet local needs. He said it would enable the development of work plans for as many as eight small watershed projects.

Police Without Clues In Yablonski Slayings

KOPECHNE INQUEST SCENES — Braving the cold, several hardy souls view the bridge (left) where Mary Jo Kopechne was killed on Chappaquiddick Island, Mass., last July 18. At the right, two Edgartown policemen in the glare of television lights stand on the steps of Dukes County Courthouse, scene of the inquest.

Edward Kennedy Testifies In Kopechne Death Inquest

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy apparently has achieved what he wanted at the belated secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne: a chance to get all of his story into a public record.

This was apparent from Kennedy's own account of his testimony Monday on the opening day of the inquest and from ground rules laid down by Judge James A. Boyle.

Leaving the Dukes County courthouse after some two hours of testimony, Kennedy appeared as relaxed and affable as the solemnity of the inquiry permitted. He told a crowd of newsmen that not only did he respond to all of the questions asked him, but did so in "the most complete way possible."

Choosing his words carefully, Kennedy went on: "At the end there were a couple of points I thought it would be useful to add to help with the record." He did not elaborate.

Judge Boyle had forbidden witnesses to discuss testimony outside of the court. Kennedy, when asked whether his testimony had paralleled the nationally televised version he offered one week after the July 18 accident on nearby Chappaquiddick Island, said:

Believe History Of Sun May Be Recorded In Moon Rocks

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A history of the sun may be permanently recorded in the rocks of the moon, say two scientists attending a lunar science conference.

Dr. Robert M. Walker of Washington University, St. Louis, and Dr. J.R. Arnold of the University of California at San Diego said Monday radiation streaming from the sun leaves minute traces in the lunar rocks.

Walker and Arnold made separate reports on studies they conducted on the Apollo 11 moon samples. They are among a group of 142 scientists who have examined the rocks and soil brought back from the moon by Apollo 11.

Walker said study of the rock under magnification after treating it with an acid etch shows tracks created by the impact of solar radiation. The atmosphere prevents this from occurring in earth rocks.

"We have never been able to do this before," said Walker. "This is unique to the moon and it opens a new area of scientific research."

Arnold said the presence of certain radionuclides—a type of atom—indicates they were shot into the rocks by huge bursts of energy from the sun called solar flares.

He said the presence of one nuclide, Cobalt 56, is accounted for by a flare on April 12, 1969, only three months before the rock was picked up by the Apollo 11 astronauts. Other nuclides record solar flares which occurred millions of years ago, he said.

Arnold said the studies indicate that rocks on the moon could be used to trace the history of the sun back to the earliest days of the moon's existence.

State Draft Directors Get Nixon Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — State draft directors have been asked by the Nixon administration to keep a uniform level of advance through the new draft lottery numbers in meeting January draft calls.

Col. Bernard C. Franck, an aide to Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, said state directors have been advised that a good target would be staying within numbers 1 to 30 this month.

He said the administration realizes that local conditions would cause disparities in calling of lottery numbers among local boards.

Arnold said the presence of certain radionuclides—a type of atom—indicates they were shot into the rocks by huge bursts of energy from the sun called solar flares.

He said the presence of one nuclide, Cobalt 56, is accounted for by a flare on April 12, 1969, only three months before the rock was picked up by the Apollo 11 astronauts. Other nuclides record solar flares which occurred millions of years ago, he said.

Union Rebel And Family Dead 3 Days

CLARKSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Roving groups of miners moving through the coal fields of southwestern Pennsylvania shut down at least six large mines today in honor of United Mine Workers Union insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski who was slain with his wife and daughter in their home.

The blood-spattered, pajama-clad bodies of Yablonski and the two women were found Monday in their colonial farmhouse on the outskirts of this small town.

Nearly 4,000 miners were off their jobs at U.S. Steel Corp.'s huge Robena mine complex, three Bethlehem Steel Corp. mines and two mines owned by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

The miners were stopped by pickets as they came to work at midnight and were asked to return home. Miners reporting to work on the daylight shift were also met by the pickets.

While Yablonski supporters in his recent unsuccessful bid for the UMW presidency have urged a nationwide coal mine work stoppage to honor his memory, there was no indication of who the pickets were.

Meanwhile, Yablonski's two sons, Kenneth and Joseph, issued a statement saying they wanted no work stoppages or any union memorials dedicated to their father. Nor they said did they want any international union members attending his funeral.

"Our father, mother and our little sister are dead," the sons said in their statement. "They were shot to death while they slept by professional assassins whose sole intentions was to kill them. There is no doubt that these horrible misdeeds are an outgrowth of our father's most recent bid to win election to the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America."

Dr. Ernest Abernathy, chief pathologist at Washington, Pa., Hospital, said the 59-year-old Yablonski, whose body was sprawled on the floor of an upstairs bedroom, had been shot five times.

Abernathy said 38-caliber slugs were recovered from Yablonski's right wrist, head, right breast and throat. The fifth slug was found on the floor.

Yablonski's wife, Margaret, 57, was found on a bed in the same room. She had been shot twice in the body.

The daughter, Charlotte Joanne, 25, was found in an adjoining room. Abernathy said she had been shot twice in the head.

"I would say they were dead probably a minimum of three days, but more likely four days," Abernathy said.

Asked whether he thought there was more than one killer, he replied:

City Assured Of Park Grant

Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt announced today that the city of Circleville has been given a letter of assurance for the award of a grant of $12,500 on a matching basis for park development.

This means that for every dollar the city puts up, it will be matched by a Department of Housing and Urban Development grant up to $12,500, if the City decides to utilize the grant.

In announcing the grant the mayor stated, "It's hoped that favorable action will be taken on this opportunity as it would not only enable the city to implement some of the recommendations set forth in the Master Plan for parklands but also permit the City to do so in a way that in effect doubles each local tax dollar."

The money can be used for both the acquisition of land and development of new parks, but the park project must be completed within one year.

State To Handle Cincy Ice Control

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Highway Director P. E. Masheter said Monday the state would handle snow and ice control on interstate highways in Cincinnati until the strike by city employees is ended.

Masheter said 100 lane-miles of highway running through the city would be treated by the state if weather conditions warranted it.

Stage Vice Raids

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Vice squad officers staged raids on what they called two "hippie dens" in the Ohio State University area Monday night and early Tuesday, arresting eight persons on narcotics charges and confiscating about $1,500 worth of narcotics and some equipment used to administer drugs.

SFC Continues Old Battle Against Giant Power Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has opened the second round of a generation-old utility merger battle that may determine whether America's lights are lit by corporate giants or the local power company.

The case that could have this broad economic result involves an attempt by American Electric Power Co., the nation's largest investor-owned power company, to acquire a relatively small competitor in Ohio, the Columbus & Southern Power Co.

The fight started with similar request by American Electric in 1946. AEP was turned down by the SEC then on grounds the proposed merger would make the firm too dominant in the utility market.

The SEC's division of corporate regulation says the proposed acquisition of Columbus & Southern by AEP in a 1-to-1.3 stock exchange would result in "undue concentration of economic power."

The proposal also is being opposed by several smaller Ohio electric utilities and municipalities, and by the city of Danville, Va., which claims AEP officials have tried to interfere in municipal elections with the aim of undermining the city's publicly owned power system.

The Justice Department also has been given permission to intervene in the case, but so far has not commented publicly on its position. The SEC is considering the merger because it has jurisdiction through the federal Holding Company Act.

American Electric, on its part, has lined up a prestigious array of economists and lawyers to bolster its argument that a large company can deliver electric power cheaper and more efficiently to customers than can a large number of small firms.

One economist, Princeton University Prof. William J. Baumol, set forth the "economies of scale" position in reopened hearings on the acquisition proposal Monday before an SEC examiner.

"There are three requisites, and if they are satisfied, any proposed acquisition must be presumed to serve the public interest," Baumol said.

"If there is no reason to expect it to lead to deterioration in product quality, and in particular, if it is expected to lead to an increase in the quality of service.

"If the prices paid by the consumers directly affected... be lower than might otherwise have been anticipated...

"If any consumers who may be affected indirectly will not, as a consequence, be forced to pay prices higher than those which they might otherwise have been expected to pay."

When such acquisitions lead to dominance of a market by one or a few big firms, Baumol said, government "regulation becomes, in effect, a substitute for competition, the alternative means to prevent shoddy quality and excessive prices."

The SEC division, on the other hand, feels such reasoning carried to its logical end would allow the hundreds of electric utility companies now in existence to be merged into one giant firm which even the government would be hard pressed to regulate.

2 Sentenced In Probation, Forgery Cases

Two men were arraigned before Judge William Ammer in Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

Raymond Hedges, Amanda, appeared on the charge of passing a forged check. Hedges was indicted by the September, 1969 term of the grand jury and recently apprehended. He was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary.

A Columbus man was sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory for 1-3 years for violation of probation. George B. Langan Jr., Columbus, was placed on probation for three years after being indicted by the grand jury in October, 1968. He was returned to court in January 1969 for violation of probation. In November he appeared before a Columbus judge for another offense and was given a workhouse sentence. Following his release he was returned to Pickaway County to face his second probation violation.

"I would certainly believe there was more than one person. These three murders couldn't have been done by one man because then he would have had to stop and reload."

He pointed out that nine shots were fired while a .38 caliber pistol holds only six cartridges.

In Fairmont, W. Va., Harry L. Patrick, co-chairman of a miners group which supported Yablonski against incumbent W. A. "Tony" Boyle in the election, said a meeting would be held tonight to urge a nationwide coal mine work stoppage in the Pennsylvania honor.

Patrick said the group also had sent telegrams to President Nixon and members of the West Virginia congressional delegation urging a federal investigation of the slayings.

Police said telephone lines to the Yablonski house had been cut and tires on two family cars had been deflated. There was no sign of a struggle and police ruled out robbery as a motive.

The killings were discovered by Franklin Eugene Hedges, an attorney. He told police he went to the house after repeated calls were unanswered, but that this was not unusual because his father traveled extensively and was frequently out of town.

"This is a terrible tragedy," said Boyle, who defeated Yablonski in a Dec. 9 election that capped one of the most bitter campaigns in the union's history.

Edward L. Carey, the union's legal counsel in Washington, said he "would be thoroughly amazed and surprised if this had anything to do with union activities. President Boyle fought hard. Joe Yablonski fought hard. But there was never any suggestion of violence of any kind."

The slain union leader used to say that "Jock Yablonski can go anywhere in the coal fields," an area frequently torn by violence. After he was attacked and knocked unconscious at a campaign rally in Illinois, however, friends said he became worried about his safety.

Joseph "Chip" Yablonski, another son, said Monday that "from the very date the campaign started, there were fears for his father's life."

John Farrar, who recovered the body of Miss Koepchne next morning, has said that if Kennedy had called for help immediately instead of going to the police nine hours later, the victim could have survived in an air pocket in the car long enough to be rescued.

The judge emphasized that the inquest is not a trial or a prosecution, that he will admit only evidence directly related to whether criminal conduct was involved, rejecting any improper testimony that would harm the reputation of innocent persons, and that the district attorney who requested the inquest, Edmund S. Dinis, was in court not as a prosecutor but to help the court bring to testimony.

Social Security Hike To Be Sent Automatically

Social Security beneficiaries need not apply for the 15 per cent benefit increase just signed into law by President Nixon.

"Every one of the 25 million men, women and children now on the benefit rolls will receive the increase automatically," Robert M. Ball, commissioner of social security, said today.

"The first regular check in the new amount," Commissioner Ball said, "will arrive April 3, the usual day for delivery of benefit checks covering payments for the month of March. A separate check in the amount of the benefit increase for the months of January and February will reach beneficiaries later in April, probably during the week of April 20."

"Refiguring the benefit amounts of the 5 million men, women and children now on the benefit rolls is a tremendous task," Commissioner Ball pointed out. "And it must be done without disrupting the regular benefit payment cycle. About one out of every eight Americans is now receiving a social security check each month," Commissioner Ball said.

As of the end of December, these monthly payments totaled $2.2 billion and the monthly total will go up by $345 million to more than $2.5 billion as the 15 percent benefit increase becomes effective.

The average retirement benefit of $100 a month will rise to $116 per month; a couple 65 or older receiving the average couple's benefit of $170, will have their benefit increased to $196; the average benefit for a family made up of a disabled worker, wife and one or more children will go up from $237 to $273; and average payments for a widow and two or more children will rise from $254 to $292.

Stout is a member of the trustees of the NAHB Apartment Construction and Management Committee.

In this capacity Stout has advocated a program of this nature and was instrumental in organizing a beginner's apartment program for the 1970 Houston convention Jan. 18.

The program will cover the subject, "How to Enter the Apartment Field." Stout is one of the speakers.

Fowl Record

An egg squeeze is on in the United States and it is reaching such proportions one suspects the hens may have gone on strike. Egg prices have climbed an average of 15 cents a dozen since mid August, with indications they may go higher before they begin to soften.

More is known about the effect of the shortage than its causes. Hundreds of millions of eggs are now being imported into the U.S. from Spain, England, Denmark and the Netherlands and still a shortage exists. For the first time since agriculture records have been kept, the nation is not self-supporting in eggs.

What has happened? Many things, including the continuing upheaval in agriculture. Chicken farms have declined considerably in the last decade (from 30,000 to 14,000 in New York state, for example).

Housewives have turned to eggs with increasing frequency as a substitute for high priced protein products like meat. The egg-using industry appears to be using larger quantities than anticipated. There have been accusations that some farmers are holding back their egg production to force prices up.

To what degree any of these factors may be contributing to the shortage is difficult to gauge. But with the volume of imports zooming and prices at high levels, the notion that anyone is holding back eggs at this point does not seem credible.

Chickens simply are not a very elastic medium of production. Months may pass after a shortage develops before this particular assembly line can be geared up for a more prodigious output.

More Than 205 Million

On Jan. 1, the United States has a population of 204,334,344 according to the Census Bureau. This was a gain of 2,057,000 in 1969.

Thus the 10-year census later this year will show a population of more than 205 million, compared to 179,323,000 in 1960.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE'S a graduate school in Texas that has come up with a most successful new slogan for snaring students for its summer sessions: "You have a degree. Now how about getting an education?"

REVENGE . . . In need of some cash to finance a leisurely trip around the world, a man went to a bank where he had done business for years and applied for a reasonable loan. He was told that because of the money crunch, there wasn't a dime available to him. Another bank, where he was a total stranger, loaned him the money with a minimum of fuss.

So our hero bought a ten-pound fish, had it wrapped, and put it in his safe-deposit box in bank number one as he cheerfully left town for six months.

DIALOGUE:

1. "I hear you were an usher at that movie colony wedding last week. What did you give the newweds?"
"About six months."
2. Doctor to difficult patient: "You certainly seem to be coughing more easily this morning."
D. P.: "I ought to. I've been practicing all night."
3. Traffic cop: "I'm afraid your wife fell out of your car about a mile back."
Driver: "Thank God! I thought I'd gone deaf!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our twin teenagers are having the usual problems at school and in our home. Every time we try to share their problems, we find that one or more of our intellectual friends disagrees with us. We came to the conclusion that we just can't be right. Is this a common complaint of modern parents?

Mr. and Mrs. G.B.M., Kansas
Dear Mr. and Mrs. M.: Parents, too, have growing pains during the adolescent period of their children. Although I am a father and physician who feels he has an adequate psychological viewpoint, I frequently feel that my attitudes and decisions regarding my child may not always be correct. When a major psychological problem arises, I find that I am too close to the problem to satisfactorily have the answer in an unbiased way.

It is here that I differ with you. When I need help and guidance, I seek it from someone who is better trained in the art and science of psychology. Such a person has no bias and is sufficiently far removed from the problem to be able to render an unprejudiced decision.

Unfortunately, friends, out of pure love, tend to offer their opinions about your problem in an authoritative way. It is strange how often they are wrong. Stranger still is the fact that they rarely can handle satisfactorily their own problems with their own children.

Herein may lie the basic reasons why loving friends offer advice so readily. Perhaps they think they can clarify their own problems by discussing yours. If you come to an honest conclusion, have faith in it. If you come to that conclusion in anger, the chances are great that you will be wrong. If you find that your decision is in error, change it, without shame or a feeling that your children will be disappointed in your error. The modern youngster appreciates such honesty in judgment and will follow a new decision if it makes sense and adds up right.

The growing up of children and their parents in this hectic age is not easy for anyone. Keep your problems within the confines of your own home and expose them only to doctors and psychologists when you feel that the burden is too great and you are unable to handle them yourself.

By what method can a skin cancer of the cheek be removed so that the disfigurement is not bad?

Mr. D.N.K., West Virginia
Dear Mr. K.: Skin cancers of the face are cured in a high number of cases and when found early, the results are astonishing. The choice of the method of removal, of course, takes into consideration the best cosmetic result. However, the prime purpose of any procedure for cancer is to cure it permanently. Therefore, the ideal method of treatment is one that cures.

There is danger in choosing a method based only on appearance. Surgery, chemical and electrical cauterization and surgery by freezing are only a few of the available techniques. The decision must be left to the judgment of the doctors, who never sacrifice safety for appearance. A scar is a very small price to pay for saving a life.

Temptation To Turn Inward

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
ZURICH — Western Europe struggles to become a single entity. The Common Market has its new employment conventions; it tries to make it easy for Italians and Yugoslavs to work in West Germany and France. Spaniards and Greeks come and go, sending needed remittances back to their families in the poverty-stricken South. But the darker impulses struggle against the Pan European feeling. Here in Switzerland, which is banker to the world, there is a contrarious urge in the cantons to get rid of the foreigner with his strange and sometimes uncleanly habits, his unfamiliar tongues. It is the same sort of understandable — but nonetheless stupid and ugly — manifestation that crops up in America from time to time as when Lyndon Johnson's Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz took out after the Mexicans in California without reckoning with the fact that no native Wasp, or white Anglo-Saxon Protestant, is willing these days to do the menial tasks that must be done.

The Swiss boom has been a magnificent reality, with new tunnels pushing under the high Alps, with Latin Americans loading the Zurich numbered bank accounts with good hard cash and with tourists and ski addicts thronging the lake and mountain resorts. In no other place in the world could a friend of mine from South Germany, Frau Wiebke Frei, sit on a ski lift at Gstaad beside a tall, angular economist named John Kenneth Galbraith and discover they had a mutual acquaintance in the author of this column. Switzerland is nothing if it is not international.

The boom would have been utterly impossible without the importation of a million foreign workers, many of them from Italy, a country which needs something to take the edge off the unemployment that is chronic in the regions south of Naples. Italians have brought their families to Switzerland, inevitably making demands on the local schools and hospitals. The Swiss are, of course, taxed to pay for the municipal services that the Italians and other foreign residents enjoy.

So it is not so strange that many of the Swiss resent the foreigner. The xenophobia, the "nationalism helveticus," or Swiss nationalism, that has been growing in the cantons is rather polite when one compares it to nationalisms elsewhere. The Swiss do not murder, as they do in North Ireland, or torture, as they do in Red China, in the name of nationalism. Nevertheless, a politico named James Schwarzenbach has so stirred things up that the Swiss are about to vote on an "Ueberfremdungsinitiative," which translates roughly as a "referendum on the problem of the foreigner." The Schwarzenbach proposition is this: let a law be passed limiting the employment of foreigners in Switzerland to ten per cent of the working force. Such a law, if Schwarzenbach wins his referendum, would mean the expulsion of 300,000 resident foreign workers, which is approximately a third of the imported labor force.

Swazimen Accused Of Lower Standards

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) — Traditionalist African monarch King Sobhuza II, who dons tribal leopard skin loincloth and headfeathers even at state receptions, is a past master of Sibaca — a footstomping dance for Swazi tribesmen. So he knew what he was talking about when he accused his people of lowering their dancing standards.

Tribesmen introduced dance steps from other tribes and worse still, incorporated such modern influences as live music, he told abashed participants at a recent Sibaca competition. The offending competitors could approach his own courtiers to learn the right steps, Sobhuza said.

What this would do to Swiss industry is positively frightening. The big Brown Boveri Company, which manufactures heavy electrical equipment, would have to fire twenty-one per cent of its workers. Another big machine company, Georg Fischer, would have to reduce its employment by fifteen per cent. The smaller enterprises would also find themselves starved for workers. There wouldn't be enough muscle to continue the road and tunnel building that is such an obviously busy part of the Swiss scene. Moreover, the towns and the villages would find themselves bereft of people to collect the garbage, to do the cleaning in the hospitals and to sweep the streets. The native Swiss, like the Wasps in California, now consider this the proper work for the stranger.

If the Schwarzenbach proposition were to be extended to other European nations, it would create a real shambles. West Germany is still in need of more imported workers. With the European boom moving into the Iberian peninsula, Spaniards and Portuguese are needed at home, which places a bigger premium on workers from Italy and Greece. An outbreak of "anti-foreignism" in West Germany and France would work even greater havoc than it would in Switzerland.

Can Schwarzenbach win his referendum? It is hard to see the Swiss voting to sustain him. The Nationalrat in Berne has disapproved of Schwarzenbach by a vote of 136 to 1, but the question must still go to the country. A leader in the construction industry who gave me a good run-down on the Schwarzenbach chances is more than a little bit worried. He has seen people vote with their emotions before this.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Mutual fund shareholders have good reason to be unhappy about performance in 1969. They paid good money for professional portfolio management but the returns were highly questionable.

Among the claims of this $50 billion industry are these:

—Funds are a hedge against inflation.
—Professional management of funds is the shareholder's greatest security.
—Diversification reduces the risk inherent in investing.

Of 376 mutual funds followed by the Arthur Lipper Corp., only 19 showed any gain over 1968. The rest showed losses that in some instances exceeded 25 per cent. At least one big fund, Putnam Equities, lost close to 37 per cent.

Not all the funds were out to show "performance," which means the greatest growth in value over a period of time. Some funds concentrated on dividends. Others were concerned with laying the groundwork for gains in 1970.

Averaged out, however, the results were decidedly poor, amounting to a whopping 14.5 per cent. This meant that of each $1,000 invested in an effort to realize some gains, a total of $145 was lost instead.

The record actually was worse than that, for roughly 5 per cent must be added to the losses because of erosion of the dollar. Rather than being a hedge against inflation, some funds were swamped by it.

In their defense, the funds point out that the Dow Jones Industrial Average during this same period fell 15 per cent. It appears safe to say that many mutual fund shareholders, who paid 7.5 per cent to 8.5 per cent in sales charges and for professional management, expect that indeed the funds should do better than the average.

Over a two-year period, the performance of many funds is much better, with several of them averaging better than 50 per cent for 1968-1969. Many of the glamorous winners in 1968, however, lost most of it in 1969.

Analyses of figures for the past two years show that while smaller funds appeared able to record the greatest gains, some very large funds demonstrated far more stability. That is, although their gains were small in 1968, their losses were small in 1969.

Everything considered, the over-all performance suggests that in 1969 investors learned that mutual funds, despite claims made in their behalf, are not automatically a hedge against inflation.

They learned that diversification, when carried to an extreme degree, can exaggerate as well as reduce losses in a plunging market. They learned that they must be as discriminating in choosing a mutual fund as they are in choosing a corporate stock, and that the quality of professional management varies widely.

They learned also not to be overly impressed by size, for there is no real assurance that the manager of $100 million will do much better than one informed and conscientious investor carefully choosing a solid, blue chip stock.

The individual investor is, however, being discouraged by some brokers. Some companies decline to accept his business, because the commissions are with the mutual and pension funds, the insurance companies and the trusts.

The marketplace, therefore, is becoming a battleground of the pros. And, matched against each other, the pros find it a pretty tough ball game.

South Viets Blast Thieu On Massacre

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese Senate committee reported Monday that American troops massacred civilians at My Lai, but said President Nguyen Van Thieu "must bear the entire responsibility."

The report of the Senate Defense Committee, read by its chairman, Sen. Tran Van Don, accused Thieu not only of making only a cursory investigation into the alleged massacre, but also of failing to make sure his subordinates clearly understood "national policy" on the conduct of the war.

By this, the report apparently referred to a need for closer cooperation between province chiefs and allied military forces operating in the field.

Thieu's government has maintained since last November that no massacre by U.S. troops took place in My Lai, although the U.S. Army has filed charges against two soldiers. One of them, 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., is accused of murdering 109 civilians in the village on March 16, 1968.

"A number of U.S. troops fired and killed indiscriminately, causing fatalities to a number of civilians, most of them aged people, women and children," the Senate report said without estimating the total number killed.

"The South Vietnamese government tried to cover up its responsibilities concerning a massacre of many civilians right in our national territory by issuing a short statement," it added.

The Defense Ministry had said on Nov. 22 that reports of a massacre were "completely inaccurate," and that 20 to 25 civilians had been accidentally killed by U.S. bombs and artillery.

"In this case the responsibility must shift to the president," the report said. "The president must bear the entire responsibility before history and the people."

The report was based on interviews with Vietnamese claiming to have witnessed the alleged massacre and documents gathered by a joint legislative investigation over the past two months.

Patman Pushes 'New RFC' Plan To Hike Cash Supply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of a "new Reconstruction Finance Corporation" to improve the supply of scarce and expensive credit plan to test congressional sentiment soon after lawmaking resumes Jan. 19.

Principal sponsor of the plan is Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee and long-time advocate of low interest rates and easy credit.

He proposed in a speech Nov. 3 creation of a National Development Bank, patterned to some extent after the Depression-era Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It would provide credit for housing and investments in depressed areas, among other possibilities.

Patman's proposal initially aroused little reaction in Congress, where the banking committee chairman is regarded by many as a persistent advocate of far-out financial schemes.

But a few days after adjournment, the Housing Department boosted the maximum interest rate on government-backed housing loans to a record 8 1/2 per cent, plus the one-half per cent insurance charge.

Although the department said it moved reluctantly because of market imperatives, critics said the move threatened to price out of the market not only seekers of low-cost housing but many average income potential buyers.

Patman immediately announced his committee will give priority attention to the National Development Bank, among other proposals to provide housing credit.

By invoking the memory of the RFC he is apparently angling for bipartisan support.

Although RFC is largely associated with Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal, it actually came into being under Herbert Hoover, more than a year before Roosevelt took office.

In its nearly 22 years of existence, RFC pumped out more than $12 billion credit, an impressive figure in a time of high dollar purchasing power.

Patman proposed the National Development Bank be initially capitalized with $1 billion stock subscribed by the Treasury. It would be allowed to lend 20 times that amount and to issue notes and other obligations to raise more funds.

In addition to making or guaranteeing housing loans under federal programs, it would help finance public facilities and private enterprises in depressed areas.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

How Can Boys Say 'No' To Girls?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy who has been reading your column for about two years. In that time, I have read several letters from girls asking how to politely say "no" to a boy without warding him off permanently. However, I do not believe I've seen a letter from a boy asking the same question about girls, so here goes:

I am tall and considered good looking by most people. My problem is that on dates, girls sometimes want me to go farther than I know I should for the good of both of us.

How can I say "no" without making a fool of myself? Abby, I have discovered the boy is not always the aggressor, so how about lending a helping hand to the male sex by printing this letter and your answer?

A MALE: You have answered your own question very intelligently. At the appropriate time, say, "We have gone as far as we are going for the good of both of us." (And if you make a "fool" of yourself with that statement, I know a lot of fine young women who are looking for the kind of "fool" you are.)

DEAR ABBY: I saw another letter in your column from a wife who complained about her philandering husband, but went to say that he was a "wonderful father." How can a cheating husband be a wonderful father?

A married man who sees other women, usually spends a good hunk of family income on them. And in case of an emergency he cannot be found. And what can a philandering husband say if his daughter takes up with a married man? And what if his sons follow his example? And what is his answer to the brat down the street who humiliates his children with, "Everybody knows about your father!" "Wonderful father" can't very well help with the homework, chaperone school dances, or even carry on table conversation with his own children if he is out on a "date."

A man with only one fault

is rare. If he's pleasant at home, keeps his family fed and clothed, is reasonably sober, and discreet, his philandering can be forgiven. But a "wonderful father?" Never!

HAD ONE: DEAR HAD: What you say is true. But if a man's one vice is philandering, then the most important virtue he can possess is discretion. (Then at least his family will be spared humiliation.) Please don't interpret this to mean that I condone philandering. I do not. But nobody's perfect.

DEAR ABBY: The author of Ecclesiastes seems to have "missed the boat" when he wrote "and there is nothing new under the sun" (1:9 R.S.V.). Recently we received a beautifully engraved invitation to an anniversary party and in the lower left-hand corner of the card were the words: MONEY TREE.

This is something new in my book. Maybe we are old fashioned, but both my wife and I were amazed beyond measure. What is your opinion of this, please?

NAME WITHHELD: DEAR NAME: It is not "news" to me. But why people who are obviously not in need would request a gift of money from their guests, is a mystery to me.

DEAR ABBY: I'll bet the fellow who prefers brunettes is a blond himself. I am a blonde girl who is not in the least offended to hear a man say he prefers brunettes.

I spent two years in South America as a missionary, and everywhere I went the men made a big fuss over my blonde hair and blue eyes because I was so "different" from what they were accustomed to seeing.

Dark-haired men have always appealed to me. In fact, I married one. I never could feel attracted to a man who looked as though he could be my brother.

MRS. TIMOTHY RAY HAMILTON

Miss Donna Jean Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Keller, Route 1, Clarksburg, and Mr. Timothy Ray Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hamilton, Route 1, Williamsport, were united in marriage 6:30 p.m. Dec. 28. The Rev. Edward Linville performed the ceremony in the Williamsport United Methodist Church.

The church was centered with a topiary tree of white gladiolus, and snow-drift mums accented with cranberry and pink velvet ribbon. The tree was flanked on each side by candelabra trimmed in cranberry and pink ribbon. Altar arrangements were in matching colors.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Gail Wolfe, organist, and Miss Judy Schein, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride selected for her wedding day a high-collared white satin gown styled with an empire waist covered with galloon lace and long sleeves cuffed with matching lace. A jeweled crown held her silk illusion veil which fell below her shoulders. The bride carried a bouquet of snowdrift pompon French carnations backed by variegated holly leaves and centered with a large white orchid, with cranberry velvet streamers. Under her bouquet she carried a blue handkerchief and a white Bible, gifts from both of her grandmothers.

Miss Nancy Keller, served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length gown of dark pink satin featuring an empire waist with long bouffant sleeves of silk organza. She carried a cascade bouquet of snowdrift French carnations and red Garnette roses backed by holly leaves and cranberry streamers.

Bridesmaid was Miss Marilyn Keller, another sister of the bride. She was dressed identically to the maid of honor. They both wore headdresses of dark pink velvet bows and black onyx necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Acolytes were Billy Keller, brother of the bride, and Todd Hamilton, brother of the groom. Terry Hamilton, was best man for his brother, Bill.

Boys And Girls IN SERVICE

Navy Equipment Operator Constructionman Ernest E. B. Ann, husband of the former Miss Diana D. Brooks of Route 1, Circleville, and grandson of Mrs. C. W. Smith, Tarleton, is serving with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 121 in Vietnam.

In Vietnam, Seabees build airstrips, temporary housing, port facilities, fuel storage tanks, drain water weirs and construct other facilities as they become necessary.

Occasionally they become targets for enemy snipers. When this happens the builders become defenders and put to use the skills acquired in combat training. The first Navy Medal of Honor recipient in Vietnam was a Seabee.

Navy Electronics Technician Third Class Lester L. Hayslip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil V. Hayslip of Route 1, Circleville is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Henry B. Wilson off the coast of Vietnam.

The Wilson was recently involved in a coordinated gunfire support and underway replenishment operation. Batteries from the San Diego based ship fired in support of Allied positions ashore while the ship was being replenished, completing two jobs in the time ordinarily required for one.

Army Specialist Four Paul W. Wright, 19, whose mother, Mrs. Marie Wright, lives on Route 1, Orient, received the Good Conduct Medal Nov. 20 while assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany.

Spec. 4 Wright received the award for exemplary conduct, efficiency and fidelity in active military service.

The specialist is a truck driver in Company A, 1st Battalion of the division's 15th Infantry near Kitzingen.

The soldier's father, Paul Wright, lives on Route 2, Orient.

Athens Group, Rhodes Aide Rap OU Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Business and civic leaders in Athens and a Rhodes administration official attacked Monday a decision to cut the school's aviation services.

University President Dr. Claude R. Sowle recently ordered staff cuts at OU's airport facilities, and ordered phasing out of the flight training program.

Ohio Aviation Director Norman J. Crabtree said the cutbacks could have a detrimental effect "by slowing creation of new and better jobs."

Crabtree urged reconsideration after a conference Monday with Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The airport is still under construction and is being financed by state and federal funds. Crabtree said it is "not yet clear whether the new airport will have complete facilities."

In Athens, Sowle said he wanted to study Crabtree's entire statement before commenting.

2 Survive After 12 Days In Outdoors

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Brendan Kilmurray and Roland McNeil found that sheltering in an igloo and drinking lots of hot water was one way to survive after their helicopter came down in the Arctic wastes.

Chipper and saying they felt fine, the two were flown here Sunday from Umiat, a tiny settlement 40 miles from the wooded spot along the Chandler River where McNeil had set down the helicopter 12 days earlier.

For eight days McNeil, 34, of Grandview, Wash., and Kilmurray, 29, of New York City stayed with the craft which contained survival gear and food supplies. But New Year's Day they decided to hike out.

"We stumbled all over the place," said McNeil, "and I never fell so many times in my life."

The temperature hovered around the 40-below-zero mark and it was light for only about five hours each day. Three hours after they started they were caught in a whiteout, when the snow in the air and on the ground combined to blot out the horizon.

"So, we dug an igloo in the snow, on the side of the river bank," said Kilmurray.

The two crawled in with a blanket and the canvas engine cover from the helicopter and holed up for two days.

U.S. Agents Start Drive On Heroin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's new drive against heroin smuggling won't be anything like the antimarijuana Operation Intercept effort that raised protests from Washington to Mexico City, the Customs Bureau says.

A spokesman said Monday the new program, announced over the weekend by Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, will concentrate on more Customs inspectors and agents and more thorough work from the ones already on the job.

Kennedy said headquarters for the new drive would be New York "since heroin smuggling is most prevalent in the northeast section of the country," but regional command posts will be set up elsewhere as needed.

The campaign was made possible by an $8.75 million supplemental appropriation which, Kennedy said, will allow Customs to hire 378 new inspectors to check baggage and cargo and 307 new criminal investigators, or agents.

Unlike Operation Intercept, which lasted for barely three weeks in late September and October, the vet-unnamed new campaign will be a Treasury-only affair.

Intercept was a joint effort of Treasury and the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, and the rigid automobile inspections it featured at the Mexican border slowed traffic and raised complaints that it was hurting business.

In Athens, Sowle said he wanted to study Crabtree's entire statement before commenting.

U.S. Taking Close Look At Enzyme Products

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — At first, British doctors treating the workers of the detergent plant diagnosed the illnesses as bronchitis, influenza, asthma.

But it soon became clear that the cause of the mysterious outbreak of illness among the detergent workers was the highly concentrated enzymes the men were working with.

Now the federal government in the United States is taking a close look at possible health hazards from detergents containing enzymes.

Health officials in this country agree with the detergent industry that there is no evidence to date of any health hazard to the housewife or other family members in the homes where the detergents are used.

But they note that plant workers in the United States, as well as in Britain, suffered from skin rashes and the asthma-like respiratory troubles when exposed to concentrations of the enzymes.

The industry says the plant problem is under control, but federal investigations continue. Enzymes are chemicals found in all living things. They are catalysts, speeding up chemical reactions. They are essential, for example, in breaking down food into simpler chemical substances in the human digestive system.

In detergents, enzymes are used to break down certain soils and stains into simpler forms so they can be more easily removed by the normal detergent and washing action, the industry says.

A box of enzyme detergent contains about 1 per cent enzyme material. The enzyme detergents have been in use in this country since late 1967.

Of the 6 billion pounds of cleaning materials manufactured a year in this country, 4.5 billion pounds are detergents. The industry says "it won't be

Middletown, Cincy Strikes Continue

CINCINNATI (AP) — Nonunion city workers continued their strikes today here and in Middletown while opposing representatives in the Queen City walked out prepared to attend a court hearing on a temporary injunction.

Judge William Morrissey of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court was to open the hearing at 2 p. m. on the order signed Sunday night by Judge Ralph Kohlen of the same court.

No negotiating sessions were scheduled for today in Cincinnati where 1,525 workers, according to city department heads stayed off their jobs. The strike began at 12:01 a. m. Monday and pickets began walking at 6 a. m. The Municipal Workers Union represents about 2,000 of the 3,900 nonunion employees.

In Middletown, negotiators for both sides requested assistance Monday from the Federal Mediation Board and the city file a petition for a temporary injunction that the Butler County Common Pleas Court granted.

James Levinusky, business agent for the Municipal Workers in Middletown, said a general meeting of union members would be held today to ask them to return to work during mediation. About 70 workers have been on strike since Monday morning in a wage dispute.

Garbage collection, street maintenance and many other services have been at a standstill in both cities. Cincinnati officials said that only 32 of 350 waste collectors reported for work Monday as filled garbage cans remained untouched in many parts of the city. Four city incinerators stayed open and many people dumped their own garbage there.

Both strikes stem from wage disputes.

Another Ohio GI Victim Of Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department released the name Monday of another Ohio victim of the war in Vietnam.

The Pentagon said Army Spec. 5 Richard P. Stotsbery of 4616 Ellery Drive, Columbus, died of non-battle causes.

POW Wives Have Visit With Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In a precedent-setting audience, Pope Paul VI Monday received seven American women whose husbands are missing in Vietnam.

"It was most impressive," said Mrs. Thomas Stegman, 30, Virginia Beach, Va. "Oh, I can't explain. But he was most sympathetic to our situation."

"He said he is praying for everyone who has suffered in all wars. He also asked us to pray for him."

It was the first time Pope Paul had ever met with women whose husbands were listed by the U.S. Command as "missing in action."

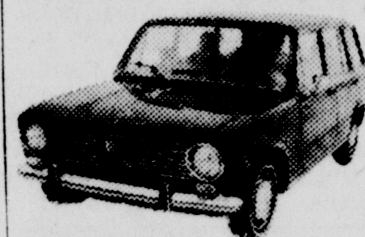

With Mrs. Stegman, a Roman Catholic, were two other Virginia Beach wives—Mrs. Robert Duncan, 23, and Mrs. Richard Nelson, 26, both Protestants.

Four California women who happened to be in Rome on a tour but whose husbands also are missing in Vietnam found out about the audience and were invited to join Mrs. Stegman's group.

Mrs. Stegman said they were Mrs. Stephen Hanson, Mrs. Roosevelt Heslett Jr., Mrs. John K. Hardy Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Mearns.

She did not know their home towns.

British medical journal Lancet in June, 1969, including a report from Dr. M. L. H. Flndt of the University of Manchester's department of occupational health.

Dr. Flndt said he found that the workers had suffered chest illnesses and added:

"The findings indicate that, in addition to causing acute illness, inhalation of this material may lead to irreversible impairment of lung function and that insidious lung damage could occur without episodes of overt illness."

"Rigorous preventive measures are therefore recommended."

The U.S. Environmental Control Administration of the Public Health Service says it has reports of about 100 cases of skin trouble and 200 cases of respiratory ailments among industry workers.

Dr. Marcus M. Key estimated that 8,000 of the industry's 25,000 workers handle enzymes in plants across the country.

The Soap and Detergent Association, spokesman for the $1.2 billion-a-year industry, admits that it had trouble with workers but says the plant problem "has been brought under control by strict dust control methods."

Administration is going ahead with enzyme studies on animals at its laboratories in Ohio and plans to spot check 10 to 15 plants in the spring to measure enzyme exposure levels.

Dr. Howard I. Weinstein, director of the Food and Drug Administration's office of product safety, said his office has received about 50 complaints of skin irritation from consumers but no complaints of respiratory illness.

About six or seven of the complaints appeared to be valid cases of allergic reaction to the enzyme product, he said. But he added that the number is not significant considering the number of persons using the detergents.

"As far as the consumer product is concerned," Dr. Weinstein said, "at the moment it doesn't appear to be a major health hazard."

Sen. Dole Carries Nixon's Fight Against Senate Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The job of defending President Nixon on the Senate floor appears to have fallen to a slim, dark 45-year-old Kansan who goes about rebutting the slightest Democratic criticism with the reflexes of a Dodge City gun-fighter.

"There are so many presidential aspirants that someone's got to watch them," says Robert J. Dole, a freshman senator who spent eight earlier years in the House as a self-described quiet man.

"As soon as we step off the floor," he added in an interview, "someone tries to take the President apart. We're making a basic mistake letting Democrats go unchallenged."

Dole, who holds no leadership position or choice committee assignment as a freshman, estimates he spent fully half his first year patrolling the usually almost deserted floor.

But he rejects any suggestion the White House asked him to fill the unofficial job of looking out for its interests on the floor.

At the same time, he is careful to avoid any direct criticism of the two men who normally would share or at least assign the role of administration advocate—Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and his assistant, Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

These two Republican moderates have found themselves opposing the administration on some key issues and disagreeing with each other occasionally.

Despite being the administration's leading defender on the floor and one of the earliest congressional backers of Nixon for president, Dole says he has been invited to the White House only three times in the past year.

"But the President appreciates what I'm doing," he says. "He sends me little notes. You know, the ones signed RN."

He is particularly sensitive about allegations that American soldiers massacred civilians in the South Vietnam hamlet of My Lai.

If it happened, Dole has repeatedly argued, it was probably an isolated incident that should not be allowed to cast a shadow on all U.S. fighting men.

Although congressional adjournment has deprived Dole of his chief forum, it hasn't dulled his reaction time.

He was the first Republican to fire back last week when Democratic National Chairman Fred Harris issued a year-end blast at the administration.

"While Harris gave Nixon an 'I' for incomplete on Vietnam it should have been an 'I' for inherited, not only with reference to Vietnam but inflation and other domestic ills," said Dole in a statement.

He also does not confine his defense of the President to the Senate floor when Congress is in session.

Dole found time last year to visit 18 states in pursuit of what the one-time college basketball star says is his only hobby—"speaking for Republicans."

GI Newsmen Silenced On Censorship

SAIGON (AP) — Two GI newscasters relieved of their duties for accusing the U.S. Command of censorship said Monday they have been ordered not to discuss the case publicly.

"I have been given a direct order by Col. Robert Cook, the inspector general (of the U.S. Command), not to discuss any aspect of this case until the investigation is completed," said Spec. 5 Robert Lawrence, 27, of Atlanta, Ga.

The other broadcaster for the armed forces network, Marine Cpl. Thomas M. Sinkovitz, 21, of Harrisburg, Pa., said he also had been told not to discuss the investigation.

Lawrence was muzzled after telling newsmen in detail about being questioned Sunday and his objections because he was not allowed a lawyer.

Today a military lawyer was with him when he was questioned.

Sinkovitz said he had received legal advice during his interrogation but had not retained an attorney.

Lawrence made the censorship charge at the end of his regular 11 p.m. newscast Saturday night on the armed forces network. He claimed that the network's broadcasters were "not free to tell the truth."

Sinkovitz followed Lawrence with a sports report and in a preliminary remark said: "Thank you, Bob, in more ways than one." He told newsmen later that he meant the remark as a "complete endorsement" of Lawrence's statements.

Girl Writes To President On Discrimination By Solons

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — A blonde, blue-eyed teen-ager who says the U.S. Congress discriminates against little girls has written President Nixon asking him to help her become the first girl to serve as a congressional page. Wendy Green mailed her letter Monday evening and said she hoped to get a quick—and positive—response from the White House.

"Dear Mr. President," the 16-year-old's letter began, "I call upon your assistance, not only for myself, but for hundreds of other girls throughout these great United States and for generations to come."

She went on to outline how two years ago she had visited the Washington office of Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., and was told Congress didn't use girls as pages.

Then last month, Wendy said, she saw a newspaper story about girl pages in the Florida Legislature. She wrote Fascell, enclosing the story, and was again told only boys were accepted.

"He said there were no facilities for girls and I would just have to give up the idea," wrote Wendy. "But Mr. President, when you have your heart set on something extra special (and who knows that better than you) it is difficult to give up."

Congressional officials say only boys from 16 to 18 are taken on as pages. They say no girls are used for several reasons, including lack of facilities, chaperon problems and the fact that pages are occasionally called upon to deliver heavy packages of documents. "Mr. President, that is discrimination," wrote Wendy, a high school junior and honor student. "And that is what you and Congress have been fighting and are adamantly opposed to."

"I sincerely believe I am qualified to be a page in the U.S. Congress. I am 16 years old and the elected treasurer of Killian High School. The one factor mitigating against me is that I'm a girl."

Bitter Cold Widens Grip On Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sub zero cold widened its grip on the midcontinent today and a mounting winter storm scattered snow, sleet and rain from Oklahoma into fringes of the Deep South.

Temperatures fell to zero or lower from the Rockies across the Midwest and southward over the central Plains. The Weather Bureau indicated cold-wave conditions were likely as far south as Alabama and Georgia by nightfall.

Heavy snow or travelers warnings were in effect from Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas to the Carolinas and Virginia. The warning area included northern reaches of Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

Rain froze or turned to sleet from north-central Texas to Arkansas and southern Missouri. Snow fell in areas to the north and along a front extending northeastward through the Ohio Valley.

The bad weather was the result of a developing storm system in the Gulf of Mexico, coupled with the southward plunge of some of the coldest weather of the season.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Whimsy is a dangerous commodity to fool around with. When it is good, it is irresistible. But when it is not working, it chills the viewer in his easy chair.

There are some nights when "My World and Welcome to It," one of the season's braver efforts, is full of rich, wry humor and oblique comment on the human condition. Then there are nights, like Monday, when the comedy curdles into very bad slapstick.

The principal characters and the general format of the NBC series are always the same—perhaps writers, or directors or a change in climate do something to the show. A week ago Monday it was a tenderly amusing story about two little boys fighting over the little Monroe girl, the one with the braces. And William Windom, in his Thurberesque role of male parent, was quite perfect.

This week it was a crazy and markedly unfunny flashback to Monroe pere's childhood, his nightmares and to an especially kooky family. It just didn't work.

Thais Fly In Combat

SAIGON (AP) — Pilots in Thailand's forces in Vietnam will fly combat missions in helicopters with U.S. crews in support of Thai ground forces, the U. S. Command announced Monday.

It said an agreement was signed Sunday at Bear Cat, 20 miles east of Saigon, between Maj. Gen. Allen M. Burdett Jr., commander of the U.S. 1st Aviation Brigade, and Maj. Gen. of the Royal Thai volunteer forces in South Vietnam.

"The agreement will allow Thai pilots to obtain experience and gain proficiency in combat operations," the U.S. Command said. "At first, the operations involved the combined participation of both countries will be limited to the 1st Brigade's 240th and 195th aviation companies."

A spokesman for Burdett said the Thai pilots "never had real combat experience with helicopters, although they've been trained to fly them, some of them in the United States."

He said the Thai aviators would act as copilots and would fly only troop-carrying helicopters and command and control ships rather than helicopter gunships.

Officials Think Volunteer Army Plan To Be Unrealistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even before it reports, certain key defense officials consider a presidential commission's proposals for an all-volunteer military force will be unrealistic.

These officials base their judgment on reports the panel's recommendations will stress higher pay for lower rank servicemen while recommending cancellation or reduction of fringe benefits.

According to their view, the commission has paid too little attention to retaining men beyond their first enlistment.

The commission, headed by former Defense Secretary Thomas Gates, meets late this week to complete action on its report and forward its recommendations to President Nixon.

In advance of that action, a top member of the commission said the 15-member group has agreed an all-volunteer Army of about 2.5 million men should be established at an estimated cost of an additional $2 billion to $4 billion a year.

Before President Nixon began Vietnam troop withdrawals, and total U.S. military manpower stood at 3.5 million men, the government estimated the yearly cost at $41 billion.

The commission cost figure is one of the lowest ever cited by those who have studied the problem.

Last July, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a group of government interns the extra cost of a volunteer force, as opposed to the current draft-based military structure, "certainly ... will be in the area of around $8 billion."

Studies during the Johnson administration concluded it would cost as much as $17 billion more a year to support an all-volunteer force at the pre-Vietnam war level.

Some Pentagon authorities suggest the presidential commission is trying to solve the problem too cheaply.

Dean William H. Meckling of the University of Rochester, executive director of the commission, indicated last week much of the additional cost in raising an all-volunteer force would go to push up the pay of men in the lower ranks.

Evidently, the idea is to attract men into the service for the first time with more pay.

The commission staff has been reported to have proposed raising the pay of first-term enlistees as much as 100 per cent, with a figure of $5,500 a year mentioned as a desired level.

The commission also has been considering follow-up enlistments without any specific term. Thus, a soldier agreeing to stay on after first enlistment would not serve any set term but, like officers, would remain in uniform until asking to resign or retire.

Pope Paul VI Praises Children

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope Paul VI praised children during his regular Sunday blessing and got in an oblique blow against abortion.

These programs will coincide with the regular pre-school story hour, and mothers who wish may attend while their children are listening to the story teller. Mrs. Frank Plescia will be leading the story hour this week, as a special treat for the boys and girls.

Work Training Need Outlined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Work and work training programs are the most important answers to solve the nation's welfare problems, a federal welfare official told a joint House-Senate public assistance committee here Monday.

Donald F. Simpson, Chicago Regional commissioner for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said training of the unskilled for semi-skilled and skilled jobs is a must to get welfare recipients "back into the mainstream of American life."

"In the long run, work is the most important answer we can provide to give a better quality of life to the poor," Simpson said.

Heart Transplants 'Worthwhile'

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years and more than 130 operations after the world's first heart transplant, a government-appointed task force reported today such surgery still is mostly "investigational" but worth continuing. The report, made public by the National Heart and Lung Institute, said results from previous transplants warrant stepped up efforts to overcome major problems besetting the operation.

The group, in another major recommendation, urged increased government efforts to perfect artificial heart devices—and said that even a completely robot heart, once considered an impossible dream, is now rated as "not at all farfetched."

Asserting that the tendency of the body to reject the transplanted heart remains the No. 1 problem, the task force said that "Until the problem of immunologic rejection is solved, 100 transplantations per year is probably an upper limit."

The 11-member group, headed by Dr. James V. Warren of Ohio State University, was appointed by the Institute in early November 1968, to study "all aspects of the problems surrounding the replacement of hopelessly diseased or damaged human hearts."

Among major conclusions: Heart transplants "appears to have prolonged life in individual patients."

That is, of 136 transplants performed in 134 patients as of July 1, 1969, two survived more than a year; 25 per cent had lived at least six months; and "some had returned to a useful life."

Moreover, the cumulative experience with human subjects "has provided information not obtainable from animal experiments."

However, the report made these qualifications:

1. "Because of limited experience and the many uncertainties associated with graft rejection, the procedure at present must still be considered as predominantly investigational."

2. Of the more than 200,000 persons under age 65 who die annually of heart disease in the United States, the maximum number of candidates for transplants—either of a human or animal heart, or by insertion of an artificial heart—is estimated to be 32,000.

That is, "The others are not candidates because they have complicating illness or die with in one hour of the onset of the attack . . . by . . . sudden cardiac death."

3. Even if rejection and certain other problems are solved, the estimated maximum number of "potential donors"—such as victims of automobile accidents—is only 22,000 annually and therefore considerably short of the 32,000 potential recipients. Therefore, to meet maximum envisioned needs, "new approaches, such as xenografting (use of animal hearts) or the artificial heart, will be required"—unless, for example, means are perfected for preserving human hearts until needed.

4. Perfection of a totally implantable, artificial heart—though deemed probably achievable—is still "years away," unless the present pace of research is accelerated.

Westfall Board Elects 1970 Officers

The Westfall Board of Education reorganized for the 1970 year, naming Troy McPherson as president Monday.

Richard Redman was elected vice president. New members sworn in were Mrs. Jeanne Lett and Eugene Bush. They replace Don Schleich and Cooke Metzger.

The board interviewed applicants for the clerk post, but no final decision was made. Brice Connell was temporarily employed as clerk until one is hired.

The meeting date of the board will be the third Monday of each month at the high school building at 8 p.m.

The board passed a resolution asking for an advance draw of $50,000 on real estate taxes to meet January bills.

The board also passed a resolution of interest in the formation of a vocational school for Pickaway and Ross Counties.

Black Lung Provision Explained

Coal miners who are totally disabled by black lung disease and the widows and dependent children of miners who died with this disease, may now apply for benefits under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act at their nearest social security office.

According to social security district manager at Chillicothe, Robert M. Martin, the important thing right now is to get every eligible person to make an application to avoid possible loss of benefits.

"If a claimant is found eligible, benefit payments will be retroactive to the date of filing an application. Actual payment of benefits under the new law cannot begin right away," Martin stated. "These are not social security benefits and before payments can begin Congress will need to appropriate money for them."

He also pointed out that additional information and medical evidence would be needed in each case. "The additional information can be furnished later," Martin said. "The amount of the benefit is about $136 per month for the disabled minor or widow and a maximum of about $272 a month for a family with three or more dependents. The application for benefits may be mailed to any social security office if a personal visit is inconvenient."

Anyone who wants to apply by mail should be sure to state that he is applying for benefits for himself and his family under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act, and give his name and social security number (if it is available). The applicant should give his own full address and his telephone number, if he can be reached by telephone. He should be sure to sign the letter, Martin emphasized. The address of the Chillicothe office is 606 Central Center and the telephone number is 775-4950.

Reagan Wants Legislature To Preserve California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan asked the legislature today to join him in preserving "the magic of California" and preventing future mishaps such as the Santa Barbara oil spill.

The Republican chief executive, expected to seek a second term this year, put heavy emphasis on conservation in his prepared annual address to the lawmakers.

The speech was to be broadcast live over more than 20 television stations and 50 radio stations throughout the state.

Reagan proposed an omnibus clean air law, even though the state now has the nation's toughest antismog legislation.

He said the state must seriously consider whether the present gasoline-consuming auto is practical in view of pollution problems. California already is providing incentives for development of a smogless auto. He also promised full use of a new antiwater pollution law which carries a fine of up to $6,000 a day.

Reagan said: "A booming economy and the 'good life' will be no good at all if our air is too dirty to breathe, our water too polluted to use, our surroundings too noisy and our land too cluttered and littered to allow us to live decently."

Reagan opposed further oil well drilling in the Santa Barbara Channel, where a big oil slick first appeared around an offshore drilling platform a year ago, until adequate safeguards against leaks are provided. Other proposals included:

Paper Work For Policeman Is Cut Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Last July 16, Mayor Joseph Alioto suggested policemen fight crime and do less paper work. Police began issuing citations to persons charged with misdemeanors, rather than taking them to jail for formal bookings.

At year's end, 1,091 citations had been issued and only 120 persons failed to show up in court as ordered, he said Monday.

The charges ranged from petty theft to malicious mischief. Alioto says he is pleased with the experiment's success and has ordered the system continued.

Nurses 'Resign' Over Low Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 100 federal and District of Columbia nurses tendered "symbolic resignations" Monday in a protest over the low pay they said is prevalent in their profession.

The nurses marched single file in front of the U.S. Civil Service Commission offices and charged the commission has shown "discrimination against women professionals."

Their "symbolic resignations" would become reality, they said, if at least 50 per cent of federally employed nurses would back them.

Boy Found Unconscious Inside Truck

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy found in a sealed refrigerated truck trailer on a railroad flat car was recuperating in a hospital today.

Jesse Nel Parker Jr. of Corsicana, Tex., was listed in serious condition, but was reported responding to treatment for exposure and shock. Where, when and how he got into the trailer was a mystery.

The boy's father, Jesse Sr., who drives a refrigerated truck himself, flew to Buffalo Monday after his son was discovered.

In their initial report of the incident, Buffalo police said young Parker must have climbed into the trailer as it was loaded with 41,000 pounds of tomatoes in Nogales, Ariz., on Dec. 29, sealed and placed on a railroad car.

Nogales, on the Mexican border, is more than 1,000 miles west of Corsicana.

Workers Monday reported they cracked seals on the trailer and found young Parker lying naked and unconscious. His clothing was nearby, as were cores of several tomatoes he apparently had eaten.

The interior of the trailer had been kept at a constant 45 degrees throughout its 2,200-mile journey. Why the youth had removed his clothing was also a mystery.

Cincy Edges Past Tulsa, 78-74

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati, which refused to crumble under an 11-point, second-half deficit, utilized a secret weapon against Tulsa Monday night—the ability to relax.

Hurricane Coach Ken Hayes said it as the Bearcats wiped out the margin and went on to a 78-74 Missouri Valley Conference victory. "Those kids from Cincinnati play basketball so relaxed and so loose," he said.

Cincinnati's Jim Ard commented that "There are times when you want to get the offense to think you're asleep. Then you've got them."

The game was the only one involving an Ohio college team Monday night.

Behind hot-shooting Ron Carso the Hurricane opened up an 11-

Fight Involving Clay Is Canceled

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A proposed fight involving defrocked heavyweight champion Cassius Clay was canceled Monday with a promoter saying "the authorities didn't want him to fight in Oklahoma."

Clay, who prefers to be known by his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, had been scheduled to fight Billy Joiner on Jan. 12 in the predominantly Negro community of Boley southwest of here.

Chiefs Undergo Super Bowl Workout For Sunday Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Coach Hank Stram sent his Kansas City Chiefs through their first Super Bowl workout today and expressed more concern about injuries to two defensive backs than any injuries to the club's pride inflicted by the odds-makers.

Stram and the Chiefs flew into New Orleans late Monday afternoon to find the odds-makers making the Minnesota Vikings, who will arrive today, anywhere from 11-13 points favorites for Sunday's clash between the American and National League football champions.

But Stram showed no emotion over the odds which make his AFL champions decided underdogs, just as the New York Jets were last year.

"I have no feeling about it whatsoever," said Stram. "I never concern myself with things I can't control. I never give odds much thought."

Stram, however, was spending time thinking about two major weapons on the defensive unit that was the key to the 17-7 victory over Oakland in the AFL championship game last Sunday-veteran safety Johnny Robinson and rookie cornerback James Marshall.

Robinson, an AFL original who has spanned the entire decade of the league, suffered what appears to be a cartilage tear in his rib cage while Marshall, the Chiefs' No. 1 draft choice, had a bruised kidney.

Of the two, Robinson appeared to be the most seriously injured and was scheduled to undergo further test here today.

"Right now Marshall is a probable," Stram guessed, "but I'd have to say Robinson is doubtful."

The Chiefs were in the first

Cincinnati ahead at 68-67 and then Wenderfer converted a clutch free throw to give the Bearcats the lead for good at 73-72.

Piranha Team Holds Meeting This Sunday

The Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team will hold a special registration meeting at 4 p.m. Sunday on the third floor of the YMCA building, E. Franklin St.

Boys and girls, age seven through 17, interested in joining the local swim club are requested to bring one or both parents to the meeting.

Age classification for both boys and girls are: seven and eight, nine and ten, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15 through 17.

The local team is in dire need of both girls and boys in the seven and eight year-old group and the nine and ten age group.

Depth and replacements are needed in all other age groups. Winter workouts will begin January 24 at the Chillicothe YMCA.

Circleville's team is a member of the Mt. Pleasant Swim League and has identical records for the last two years, 5-1.

Jim. Shea will begin his fifth year as head coach and Dick Penn will coach the seven and eight year age group for the second year.

Ard, who wound up with 18 points to share team honors with John Fraley, battered the ball away from Tulsa on the next play and sank two free throws a few seconds later.

Cincinnati's outside shooting late in the game drew Tulsa out of a zone that had puzzled the Bearcats. The Hurricane dominated the boards both halves with Dana Lewis, 6-foot-10-250-pound center, pulling down nine rebounds in the first half.

But Cincinnati's scrambling—aided by a foulcourt press late in the contest—proved an important factor.

Cincinnati forced several turnovers and Tulsa frequently missed shots.

Tulsa tured the ball over 20 times compared to 13 times by Cincinnati, a fairly low figure for the Bearcats.

Ard held his own with Lewis although Tulsa's overall height prevailed. Ard had 18 points and 13 rebounds to 19 points and 11 rebounds for Lewis, but Ard said that "He's the best I've played against this season."

Cincinnati has now won four straight games and upped its record to 9-2 overall and 1-1 in the MVC. Tulsa dropped to 6-5 and 1-2 and has now lost four games by a total of nine points.

Vikings Head For South And Clash With KC Chiefs

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Vikings from the frozen north voyage south today in search of professional football's biggest prize.

The champions of the National Football League were set to leave this snowy, frigid city and arrive in balmy New Orleans, where they have a date in the Super Bowl Sunday with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League.

The invasion will be joined by some 2,500 jubilant Vikings fans, who purchased Super Bowl tickets immediately after Minnesota's 27-7 destruction of the Cleveland Browns last Sunday.

To watch a Viking victory in the warm glow of the Southern sun would be the ultimate satisfaction for these hardy, rugged fans, who have struggled through nine seasons of hard-fought games in bitterly-cold winters to watch the Vikings become the first expansion team to win the NFL title.

"It's the most emotionally involved thing I've ever experienced," said John Murphy of Minneapolis, one of hundreds of Twin City residents who are flying to New Orleans for $234.50 on a two-day package plan sponsored by a Twin City bar.

The Vikings held a players' meeting Monday while the coaches went over game films.

Tarkenton Leads East

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scrambling Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants Tuesday was named a quarterback for the East in the annual National Football League Pro Bowl game Jan. 18.

Tarkenton, scheduled to appear for the fifth time in the game, replaces Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins, who withdrew because of pending knee surgery.

Bill Nelsen of the Cleveland Browns is the other East quarterback. The West quarterbacks will be Roman Gabriel of the Los Angeles Rams and Joe Kapp of the Minnesota Vikings.

Also added to the East squad were fullback Tony Baker of the New Orleans Saints and punter Bobby Walden of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Tight end Jim Mitchell and place kicker Bob Etter of the Atlanta Falcons were added to the West team.

Atlanta head coach Norman Van Brocklin, for whom Tarkenton toiled when both were at Minnesota, is coaching the West. New Orleans' Tom Fears, a star pass catcher for Van Brocklin when they played for the Los Angeles Rams, will coach the East.

Pratt, despite the fresh injury he suffered in a game Saturday night, played his usual devastating, sharp-shooting performance.

"The team that controls the boards, controls the game," said Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp. "So tonight we beat Mississippi 59-29 on the boards, and of course we won."

New Mexico State, down 36-34 at the half, came back on a barrage of second-half field goals to bury Texas El-Paso, and Bruce Rich dropped in a 15-foot jump shot as the buzzer sounded in the second overtime to give Mississippi its upset win over Tennessee.

Dan Issel fired in 31 points and broken-nosed Mike Pratt put in 21 as Kentucky ripped apart Mississippi State in a Southeastern Conference runaway.

Both were going after a loose ball, the two collided and Scott spilled into the press tables. The North Carolina star came up swinging, but other players intervened and the referees soon restored order.

The victory gave South Carolina a head start on North Carolina in their battle for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown. The Tar Heels have won the title the last three years, but the Gamecocks were the pre-season picks this time.

Ribick, who had put South Carolina in the lead with a field goal, pumped in five more and almost got into a fight with Scott later in the first half.

Second-ranked Kentucky blasted Mississippi State 111-76.

UCLA Takes Top Rating In AP College Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS UCLA is back home again. The Bruins, national champions in each of the last three college basketball seasons, moved to the top of The Associated Press' major college poll today for the first time this season.

Until today, the No. 1 spot has been held first by South Carolina and then by Kentucky. But UCLA, 8-0, convinced the voters with two victories last week, the second one a 108-77 shellacking of Notre Dame.

The Bruins polled 24 first-place votes and accumulated 642 points to Kentucky's 610. The Wildcats received the other nine first-place ballots cast by sportswriters and broadcasters based on last week's games.

Its loss to UCLA was one of three suffered by Notre Dame last week and that tumbled the Irish from No. 8 right out of the Top Twenty. Notre Dame also was beaten by South Carolina and Kentucky.

South Carolina also whipped New Mexico and Bowling Green last week, running its record to 8-1 to hold its No. 3 ranking with 46 points.

North Carolina, 9-1, also won three games last week and remained No. 4. The Tarheels had 350 points. The poll did not include North Carolina's loss to South Carolina Monday night.

St. Bonaventure jumped seven places from 12th to fifth on the basis of its convincing victory in the Eastern College Athletic Conference's Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden.

New Mexico State, 12-1, took over sixth place, with Tennessee one-point losers to Niagara last week, falling from No. 6 to No. 12.

Jacksonville beat Hawaii by 22 points in its only start last week but it was good for a three-step jump in the ratings from 10th to seventh. Davidson also moved up three spots from No. 11 to No. 8 but the Wildcats needed three victories to do it.

Ohio University's 73-65 loss to Texas tumbled the Bobcats from fifth to ninth while North Carolina State jumped from 15th to No. 10 on the basis of three victories last week and a 10-0 log for the season.

After that came Houston, Tennessee, Marquette, Washington, Niagara, Oklahoma, Columbia, Penn. Duke and Louisville in that order.

The Top Twenty with first-place votes in parentheses and total points. Points awarded for first 15 places based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-etc:

Chiefs and the Dallas Cowboys were very similar.

"Kansas City moves the ball around out of the I formation with shifts," he said. "They do even more than Dallas. They like to run a lot of wide plays and also shoot Mike Garrett up the middle. They are a quick-hitting type with finesse. I think they have as fine personnel as there is in football today."

Head coach Bud Grant characterized Kansas City as "tough defensively with a strong running game and an ability to control the football."

Grant said he thought Kansas City would have an advantage in preparing for the game because Minnesota's offense is basic and the Chiefs' is more varied.

"We run very standard stuff," Grant said. "We're very basic, doing things that do not involve recognition."

2 Class AA Teams Tied In Cage Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Mohawk and Zanesville shared the top rung in Class AA and Mansfield St. Peter sprinted away from the Class A field today in the first Associated Press high school basketball poll of the season.

A state-wide board of sports writers and broadcasters cast Columbus Mohawk and Zanesville, a pair of classy unbeaten, in first place with 93 points.

Only two points behind in third place came perennial power Canton McKinley, beaten only by Pennsylvania strongboy Farrell. McKinley's only regular season loss a year ago was to Farrell as the Bulldogs went all the way to the State Tournament finals.

Mansfield St. Peter, which numbers Class AA Toledo Central Catholic, Akron Vincent and Cleveland St. Joseph among its 12 victims, collected 130 points in Class A, 84 more than unbeaten New Riegel.

New Riegel, relying on many of the boys that led it to the Class A state baseball crown last spring, was only two points ahead of Zane Trace of Ross County.

Fourth-ranked Dayton Chaminade and Canton McKinley are the only Class AA teams from last year's State Tournament to make the top 10. None of the final four in the Class A post-season play reached the top 10.

Columbus East in Class AA and Strasburg in Class A were the 1969 poll champions. Neither got a mention in this year's first ratings.

Canton McKinley was second and Zanesville sixth in the 1969 Class AA poll. Zane Trace was ranked second in Class A a year ago while St. Henry was eighth, Granville ninth and Garaway 10th.

Garaway was ranked fourth this year with Granville seventh and St. Henry tenth. Others in the Class A elite were Coldwater (No. 5), Sandusky St. Mary (No. 6), Wynford (No. 8) and Versailles (No. 9).

Following the top four in Class AA were Newark, Toledo Macomber, Middletown, Dayton Roth, Hamilton Garfield, Cleveland East and Ashland. The latter two tied for tenth.

Warriors Defeat Pistons, 118-102

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A victory at the halfway mark left the San Francisco Warriors today right where they have been most of the National Basketball Association season — fighting to get above .500 per cent at 20-21.

The Warriors whipped the Detroit Pistons 118-102 in Monday night's only league game, giving them a 6-6 mark in their last 12 games, while the sliding Pistons were posting 2-10.

South Carolina Defeats Tarheels, 65-52

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Nothing could be finer than to beat North Carolina in the evening ... and South Carolina made the Tar Heels dance to their tune Monday night.

"This was a good win, North Carolina is an excellent team, and deserving of its rating," Coach Frank McGuire said after his third-ranked Gamecocks topped the fourth-rated Tar Heels 65-52 in a college basketball game spiced by flaring tempers.

Find Whites Still Leave Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whites are continuing to flee the inner city leaving behind a core of black families with little chance to improve its lot, a new government study shows.

Particularly in metropolitan areas of a million or more people, the Census Bureau reports, the population in poverty areas is becoming increasingly black "as the proportion of whites among the poor in these areas diminishes."

Rockwell Livingston of the bureau's poverty statistics program drew the conclusions from a study of the 1960 census and a 1968 population survey. His findings were further confirmation of the evidence easily visible in any big city and its surroundings.

But at the same time Livingston's findings underscored another social problem that hasn't received as much recognition: More and more, the poor, black families trapped in the slums are headed by women unable to earn enough money to drag their income above the government's poverty line of $3,000 a year for a four-member urban household.

Those left behind, he reported, are too old, too young or too burdened with family to earn a good living. More than 70 per cent of the poor remaining in poverty areas—most of them children—fit into this category.

"About half of the poor residing in poverty areas in 1967 were children under 18 years of age," he said. "Two-thirds of these children were Negro" and other nonwhites.

He reported the number of families living in poverty areas had dropped 15 per cent in the eight years between the two surveys. Although some blacks got out, most of the flight was by whites, and the difference was even more pronounced in the largest cities.

In poor areas of metropolitan areas containing more than a quarter-million people, the number of white families dropped 18 per cent, while the black population dropped half that much.

In areas with more than a million residents, however, the white population dropped 25 per cent, while the black population dropped by 8½ per cent.

But the figures for black immigration are deceiving, because families headed by women were left behind as others headed by black men and white men and women moved out.

The problem was compounded by the fact that almost two-thirds of the black women heading families had two or more children, while the figure for white women was about one-third—only half as large.

In addition, families in the poor areas tended to have almost twice as many children as families with incomes above the poverty line.

NBA Names All-Stars For East

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's Billy Cunningham and New York's Willis Reed and Walt Frazier were the leading vote-getters on the Eastern Division squad for the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game at Philadelphia Jan. 20.

The eight-man team, announced today by Commissioner Walter Kennedy, was picked by sports writers and sportscasters who regularly cover the NBA in the 14 franchise cities.

Joining Cunningham at forward is John Havlicek of Boston. Reed will start at center. Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson and Frazier will open at guard.

Also chosen to the East team were Gus Johnson of Baltimore, rookie Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee and Hal Greer of Philadelphia.

The Western Division choice will be announced later this week. Then the NBA coaches will choose four additional to complete the 12-man squads. Each club must be represented.

French Quarter Won't See Gridders

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The famed French Quarter of New Orleans jumps and jives from dusk to dawn, but not for the principals in next Sunday's Super Bowl football game.

Bourbon Street, the boulevard of strippers, jazz, highballs and high jinx, is off-limits—if not officially certainly unofficially—for members of the Minnesota Vikings and Kansas City Chiefs.

Booster Club Meeting Scheduled Wednesday

Circleville Booster Club meeting will be held 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school cafeteria. Films of previous game will be shown to members during the program.

SPORTS Highlights

Walter Johnson's Frostbite Better

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Walter Johnson, who suffered a severe case of frostbite in the National Football League title game at Bloomington, Minn., is expected to be released from Shaker Medical Center Hospital today or Wednesday.

The Cleveland Browns' defensive tackle had the fingers of his right hand badly frostbitten Sunday, and it had been feared at first that he might lose the tips of his fingers.

But Johnson was reported much improved Monday, and he is expected to be ready for the Pro Bowl game.

Denison End Given Athletic Backing

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has awarded Denison University defensive end Scott Trumbull a $1,000 postgraduate scholarship. He carries a 3.55 scholastic average.

Trumbull, from Toledo, is one of 33 seniors selected for the awards by the NCAA. He has not yet decided where he will attend graduate school.

How Weather Looks Today

OAKLAND (AP) — Daryle Lamont's hand was not broken when he injured it in the American Football League title game here Sunday. X-rays have shown.

Lamont, hurt in the Oakland Raiders' 17-7 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs, said he may be able to play in the league's All-Star game Jan. 17, but added "I don't want to jeopardize anything."

The X-rays showed inflammation of ligaments in his wrist which make it almost impossible to pick things up, the Raider quarterback said.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The East has a two-game edge on the West in the mid-season showdown between division leaders in the American Basketball Association.

Indiana, leader of the Eastern Division with a 29-6 showing, beat New Orleans for the second time Monday night, winning 96-92 after Bob Netolicky's jumper with 37 seconds left put them ahead for good.

Now add $400.00 a month to your health protection for only 25¢

★ Pays you extra cash at the rate of $400.00 a month...for each hospital stay.★ Guaranteed Renewable For Life. At last—a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you get or how many claims you make ★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to the doctor or hospital) ★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—including Medicare ★ No age limit—no medical examination required ★ No salesman will call

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT THURS., JANUARY 8, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous Extra Cash Plan that...

Pays you $400.00-a-month tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have an extra $400.00 cash coming in every month—beginning the very first day you enter the hospital.

Now, National Home enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Your special low rate is just 25¢ for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then you may continue at National Home's regular low rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this $400.00-A-MONTH Hospital Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage payments, to replace savings—or any necessary but costly extras not covered fully by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why National Home developed low-cost Extra-Cash Protection that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses.

You get your $400.00 per month—TAX-FREE—as long as you are confined in the hospital—even for life. And, when you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, National Health Plan pays out an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $400.00, but $800.00 a month. Your spouse receives not $400.00, but $800.00 a month. That's $1,600.00 in all, in cash payments

PAYS $400.00-A-MONTH CASH for each accident or illness...beginning the very first day in the hospital—and continuing for life, if necessary!

PAYS $200.00-A-MONTH CASH for the first three months, if you're over 65. And, a full $400.00-A-MONTH CASH thereafter—even for life!

PAYS $1,600.00-A-MONTH CASH when both husband and wife are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury for as long as both remain in the hospital—even for life!

PAYS up to $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

PAYS $400-A-MONTH CASH for each pregnancy requiring a hospital stay, when both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits. Coverage begins the very first day in the hospital.

PAYS $400.00-A-MONTH CASH for a Registered Nurse if your doctor has you hire one within five days following a covered hospital confinement of five days or more.

65 OR OVER? YOU COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

We have designed this Plan as the important addition to whatever is paid by Medicare—or health insurance you may have with any other companies. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to any benefits you may receive from Medicare, National Home pays you $200.00 a month for the first 3 months, and a full $400.00 monthly while hospitalized thereafter...even for life, if necessary!

to you every month starting the day you go to the hospital for as long as you both remain there.

We can never cancel your Policy!

You can count on this wonderful protection no matter how old you get or how many times you collect from us. Your Policy guarantees that we cannot cancel your protection after you've made a lot of claims, or become old—or for any other reason whatsoever. It is GUARANTEED-RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE! And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family this Plan (NH10-669)

Pays you $400.00-a-month cash Maternity Benefits!

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to help buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have added Maternity Benefits, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days—as long as necessary—you are paid for every day of your confinement at the rate of $400.00 a month.

All these added cash benefits.

Added cash benefit: Up to $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs any time within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 brings peace of mind during the period of adjustment.

Added cash benefit: Choose Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits) and all your dependent, unmarried children from age one month through 18 years will be covered, too! National Home pays at the rate of $240.00 a month, when your youngster is hospitalized...for removal of tonsils, appendix or any other illness or injury. Yes, you will receive $240.00 a month cash, month after month while the child is in the hospital.

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

If you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums for you and all Covered Members that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by National Home. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then, if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, we will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your National Health Plan Policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy...during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this Policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the Policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered immediately.

Nationally known and respected.

This is the kind of outstanding protection you have read about in Reader's Digest, Parents', National Geographic and other leading publications. The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states—and many foreign countries—paying benefits at the rate of more than one million dollars a month.

Grateful Policyowners write...

"Received your check for $880.00. I appreciate having the money sent directly to me so I could decide how to use it."

NICHOLAS CRISTL, Green Bay, Wis.

"It was wonderful to receive your check for $555.00. I'm very pleased. It paid real well."

MRS. BESSIE GEISINGER, Kansas City, Mo.

"Everyone should have your coverage. I know I wouldn't be without it."

WALTER TUCKER, Fayetteville, N.C.

Make your decision carefully.

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable doctor, surgical and nursing services that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet runaway hospital and medical costs. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

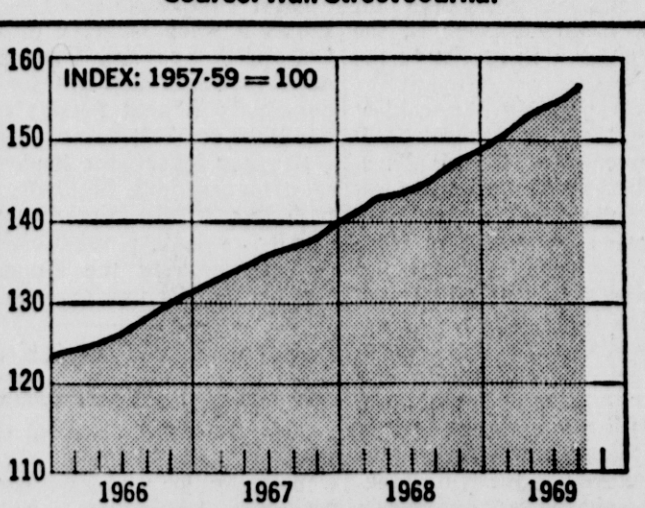

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment Form—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to enroll in this Plan—only a few days? Because this is a limited Enrollment Period—and we must receive your Enrollment Form at the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" method enables us to give you the broadest coverage at the lowest cost.

We mail you the Policy as soon as we receive your Enrollment Form. When the Policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then—show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant or doctor. Better still—show it to your own insurance man...even though he may very well be working for another company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere—at any price!

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

HERE ARE YOUR LOW RATES.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependents. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue only one policy of this type per person. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Renewal Premium
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-74	only $4.95
75-79	only $5.95
80 and over	only $6.95

Only $1.90 more covers all your dependents...

from the age of one month through 18 years. And then if you wish, just add 95¢ monthly to that, and you're covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled in the National Health Plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

Act NOW—"Later" May Be Too Late!

Just 25¢ covers you and your family for first month. TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment Form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

THESE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how National Home's EXTRA CASH HOSPITAL PLAN gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will my Policy pay me when I go to the hospital?

$400.00 per month. If you're over 65, you collect on top of any Medicare benefits. $200.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $400.00 monthly while you remain continuously hospitalized afterwards. You collect cash not just for yourself, but for all covered members of your family when they are hospitalized! And you collect cash even if you're in the hospital for only one day!

2. When do I collect $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if the loss occurs as long as 3 months after the accident.

3. What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

Don't worry. If you return to the hospital, you again collect $400.00-a-month extra cash for as long as you remain in the hospital. You need only to have resumed full normal activities for just 90 days—then if you are hospitalized for the same illness again, you begin to collect all over again.

4. Will you pay me $400.00-a-month cash—even for pregnancy?

Yes! Many health plans don't cover pregnancy. But we do, when Maternity Benefits are added to the basic Plan. You collect for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this Plan for entire pregnancy period.)

5. Do you pay me cash for my children, too? And for any children we may have in the future?

You collect $240.00-a-month cash any time your child goes to the hospital, when Coverage for Children is added to the basic Plan...each time any dependent, unmarried child (age 1 month through 18 years) is in the hospital for sickness or injury. And if you have a growing family—as soon as your newborn child is one month old, he, too, is covered—automatically...at no additional cost to you.

6. Are there times I might collect as much as $1,600.00 a month?

There are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you, but for every covered member of your family. National Health Plan gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are both in an accident and go to the hospital at the same time, you receive $1,600.00-a-month tax-free cash. This amount is paid for as long as both of you remain in the hospital—even for life!

7. Am I ever allowed to stop paying premiums during a long stay in the hospital—yet still remain fully covered?

Yes, you are! Should you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—be hospitalized for 8 weeks or more, National Health Plan will pay all premiums that come due for you and all covered members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. You aren't expected to pay us back either.

8. How do I go about submitting a claim?

We invite you to contact Cash Benefits Headquarters direct. Whether you want to submit a claim, or just ask us a question, don't hesitate to contact us. As a National Health Plan policyowner, you are entitled to prompt, courteous and direct attention at all times...and you will get it.

9. Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in the hospital of your choice except a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

10. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy covers everything except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

11. If I'm hospitalized less than a month—do you still pay benefits?

Yes! We pay you for every day you're in the hospital. There's no "waiting period" before you start collecting.

12. What are the requirements to enroll in this Extra Cash Hospital Plan?

You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and, to qualify during this Enrollment Period—you must enroll before midnight of the date shown on the Enrollment Form.

13. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages of joining the National Health Plan during this Enrollment Period?

Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a lengthy, detailed application—just the brief Enrollment Form in the corner of this page. Also, during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your Policy!

14. How do I enroll?

Fill out the brief Enrollment Form and mail it with just 25¢ for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: National Health Plan, Valley Forge, Pa. 19481.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

We will send your National Home Policy by mail. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. Show it, if you wish, to your own insurance agent, doctor, lawyer or other trusted adviser. If you decide, for any reason, that you don't want to continue as a member of this Plan, return the Policy within 15 days, and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile, you will be fully protected while making your decision!
